From the A&E Director’s Chair: “Have you told your tale?”

Dear Friends, We’re excited to introduce Belt Story, an ongoing oral history project that launches this November! Belt Story will offer workshops and interview opportunities throughout the year with our first objective being to provide the stories for Mine Tailings, a locally written and produced signature community play. Everyone has fascinating stories to tell, and it’s especially important that our seniors have the opportunity to share these oral histories. Belt High School English classes will initiate story collection over Thanksgiving holiday through “Story Corps DIY: Recording the Stories of Your community.” Please spread the word! Also, I hope you consider joining in Belt Story as an interviewer or interviewee. I would love to hear from you! My email is jeffross@3rivers.net. Jeff Ross, A&E Director

From the Board President: Fundraising for our Future

Dear Friends of the Theater,

Thank you for your support of the Belt Performing Arts Center! As an all-volunteer organization, we are ever grateful for the generous contributions of both time and money that have brought us this far. As so many of you know, the restoration of our facility was a twenty-year journey. We are thrilled to now focus our efforts to positively impact the rural communities in our area through the programs and events we offer and by keeping our historic gathering space affordable and available for use. Our board members and volunteers are committed to the careful stewardship of our resources and the growth of our strategic partnerships with surrounding organizations and area schools to further our mutual impact.

Financial support will enable much needed infrastructure projects, such as theater-stage lighting necessary to hosting a larger variety of events, as well as programs to engage both the young and the young at heart in our communities, not to mention keeping the lights on! Please help us move forward by donating and becoming a member of the theater. Your purchase of a season ticket will help bring new and exciting performances to Belt.

We invite you to join us at an upcoming event or to just stop in and see the theater decked out in her holiday finest. Until then, we wish you the very best during this special time of year!

With gratitude,
Carlen Keaster
